Academics

This section goes out to all you wacky artists, crazy wood hackers, drama queens (and kings), all-time famous chefs, "fluent" foreign language speakers, computer nerds, future presidents, snoopy journalists, athletic jocks, math-wizzes, walking dictionaries, science geniuses, fans of George Washington, political argumentation lovers, and all of you band geeks. We love what all of you accomplish...keep on doing what you're doing!

ART/WOODS

AHS art classes are taught by Ms. Spaan and Mrs. Sentgeorge. Students can express themselves in design and draw, pottery, or sculpture. Sculpture uses unlikely resources to create art, such as wire and aluminum cans. The art room has a laid back atmosphere where students are allowed to listen to music and talk with friends. Student works are displayed around the school, as well as in the yearly art show.

Advanced woods and construction classes refine their skills and hope to have their projects placed in the famous photo album. When looking through the photo album filled with students holding their projects one thing jumps out at you. Although the size of hair and style of clothes had changed dramatically, students are still churning out good old woodworking projects.

THEATRE / DRAMA

Theatre design is an artsy class offered to students. Taught by Mr. Foss, students learn how to create mood and atmosphere in a theatre setting.

A brief history of theatre helps students design their own stage setting as one of the big projects for the class. In this class students work in small groups in order to create backdrops for various school plays.

ANDRE EVANS and LIZ ALCOCK play an acting game where one actor tries to eliminate the other actor out by freaking them out.

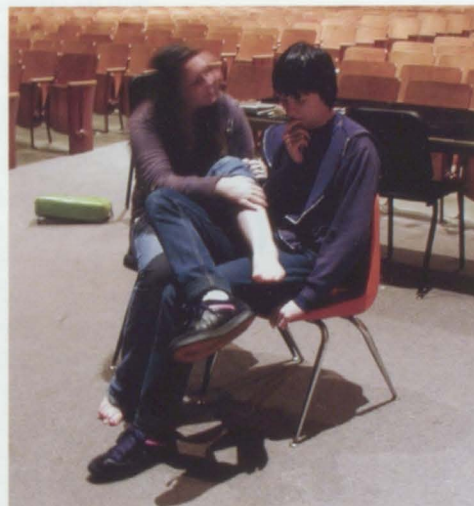

Beginning acting and advanced acting are taught by Jenni Newton, a remarkable lady who uses her flamboyant personality to inspire her drama students. Students in drama start out playing easy acting games that help students get to know each other and become confident.

Later, students move on to more advanced acting games, ones that require full concentration. After a pantomime unit, students split into partners and learn a final skit which they perform for the class. The top skits are given the opportunity to perform at the state acting competition.

MERTS includes a variety of classes that appeal to the industrial mind. MERTS is an extension of Clatsop Community College and by taking these courses students gain college and high school credits together. The MERTS campus is located at Tongue Point and offers courses such as Welding, Auto Science, and Fire Science. The class instructors from CCC are Harly Bristol, Steve Sanders, and Jene Bock. The benefits of these privileged classes are fun hands on learning and being able to kill two birds with one stone by getting credits for college at the same time.

MERTS has been a part of AHS for many years and will be offered for many more; furthermore, AHS students are very fortunate because students at other schools are not all able to take part in electives like these. As well as being fun, the classes offer important, useful skills. Joel Homelack stated, "[Having these classes] is a benefit over Seaside, and it is definitely a benefit in getting jobs here in Astoria."

COOKING / PARENTING

This year Beginner and Advanced Cooking was offered at the Astoria Middle School for high school students. The course director, Linda Noack, wanted to make cooking available and took advantage of the unique opportunity to have a middle school teacher teach older students. "Over the past few semesters, the high school has needed more electives offered to their students to meet the requirements of graduation. There was some discussion about having teachers at the middle school offer classes to the high school students. "I was excited when I was given the opportunity to teach a class that would be more advanced than the classes I had been teaching at the middle school." When asked what kinds of criteria they cover and foods the students would be making she said that her classes learn terms frequently used in cookbooks and recipes and they make foods such as "powder biscuits, cream puffs, pretzels, eggs benedict, pie, cookies, muffins, salsa, soup, stir fry, and un-fried potatoes." The class had begun successfully, with little problems, only a broken bowl here or burned ration there. Unfortunately transportation and attendance have gone hand in hand in posing as other difficulties during the course.

Another new course at Astoria High School is the Parenting class which has been offered for two years. This year the class has a new teacher, Laura Roth. The class' curriculum covers topics from Pregnancy to OHP (Oregon Health Plan) to basic nutritional needs of infants and toddlers. This class is an important addition to the offered electives because it is available to current and future parents. The students are able to learn from many professional speakers who come in and relay vital information. Laura Roth commented on the main goal of the class, "This class is being offered to help students learn the concepts needed to raise healthy, happy children."

SERVICE LEARNING/LIFE SKILLS

Life skills, taught by Ann Bales, provides its students with the skills they will need to be successful once they go out into the world.

On the last Wednesday of each month the class goes swimming at the AAC. Each Wednesday the class goes on an outing, they have been bowling, to the public library, and lunched at a restaurant.

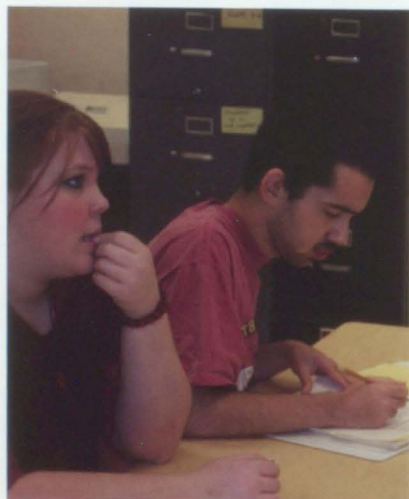

This winter the life skills class adopted a family around Christmas time. The class collected food, toys, and gifts to give to a single mom and her kids.

SHARI GONZALES listens in on the classroom debate during service learning.

TERRAH NOLAN, KAYCE LILLEY, and ALEX HILLARD discuss teen issues in service learning.

MINDY CHADDERTON helps JOE MCCARTY with his homework.

This year service learning is taught by Mrs. O'Bryan.

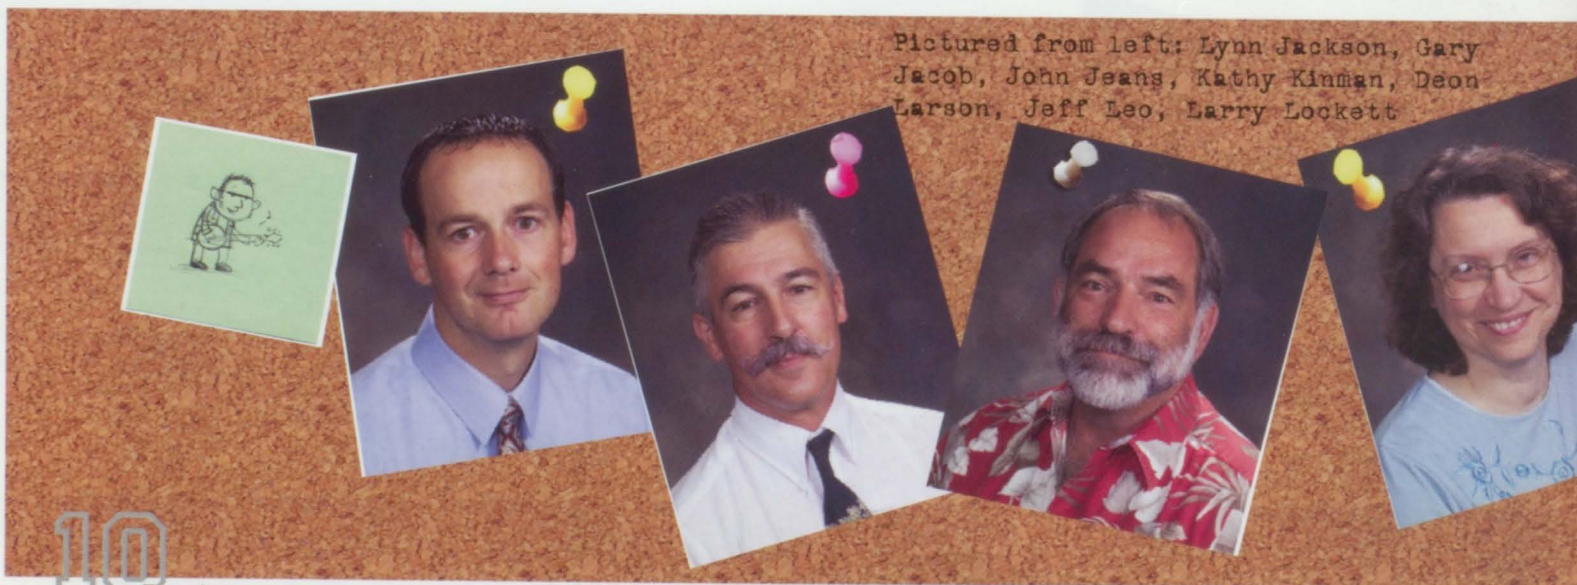

Service learning focus' on volunteering, community service, and career shadowing.

First semester the class was involved with the Clatsop Retirement Village. Students taught an internet usage class once a month, and they decorated Christmas trees and made a recipe book.

Second semester service learning recieved a $5000 grant under Community 101. The class will decide where the money is needed most in the community.

In the midst of a world of techies, computers can seem a little intimidating. Mr. McFarland tackles the computer classes once again, offering digital photography, web design, and a video productions class.

Computer classes aren't for surfing myspace or instant messaging. After a semester, you will realize that there are more to computers than chatting.

ALICIA KELLER, KELSEY MANION, AND SHELBY HASKELL attempt to capture the best angle in digital photography.

In digital photography students learn to edit pictures using Adobe Photoshop. A lot of the class involves taking the pictures themselves, which are shot around campus and at the park.

Web design allows students to express their creativity by making useful websites. Instructions need to be followed carefully, because HTML coding can be tricky.

For all the aspiring filmmakers out there, video productions is probably the class for you. Achieve your dream of moving to Hollywood by learning all you can in the video productions class at AHS.

PE/HEALTH

With several P.E grants under our belt, AHS is able to offer a variety of P.E classes. Whether you are looking for fun games, fitness, or outdoor activities, AHS has something for you.

Rec P.E offers a variety of physical activities. On weekends and during class students go fishing, bowling, biking, and golfing. This year Rec P.E went rafting.

Competitive P.E is for students with a classic taste for old school games. Dodgeball, badminton, basketball, baseball, the students in this class are very spirited.

OSCAR CARRIERE twitches and fumbles the ball.

Once again health class is taught by Ms. Marsch. Students dive into drug and alcohol units, mental health issues, and the notorious sex-ed unit.

Ms. Marsch offers a simple way of learning: movies, worksheets, and reading are every day occurrences.

Health is a freshman class that helps students transition into the real world. For some kids, health class is a review, but for others, it's helpful advice. One thing is for sure, "knowledge is power."

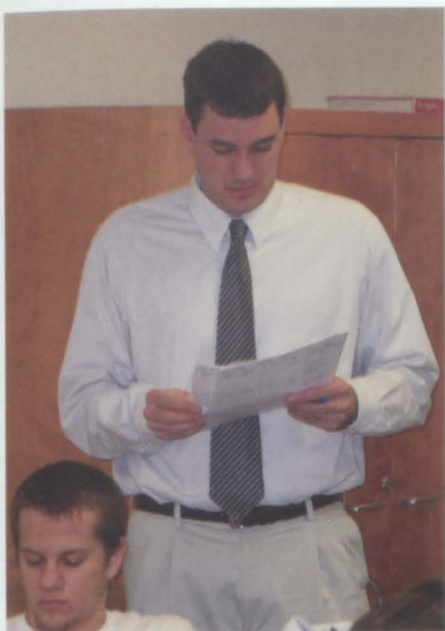

Freshmen are willing and eager to learn about sex-ed.

Mrs. Kinman and Mr. Leo instill students with the basic knowledge needed to excel in the upper level classes. Mr. Leo encourages his students by reading inspirational quotes every so often, and Mrs. Kinman always answers questions with her neverending patience.

Besides the agonizing finals, tests, quizzes, and homework, math really isn't that bad. As long as you can recognize the numbers one through ten, AHS math teachers will be able to help you out.

ENGLISH

"I gotta book it." "Let's boogie down." "Freaky-deaky." How often do you hear people saying these phrases in the halls? Not very often right? Although verbal trends and slang have changed a lot since the 70's, English literature has not.

Just like our parents, we are still reading Shakespeare plays. Mr. Hill offers a Shakespeare course this year, which goes more in depth into the study of this great playwright.

SCIENCE

Come prepared to science class, you never know if you will be launching bottle rockets, dissecting an animal, or playing with chemicals. Baker, Fromwiller, Roth, and Cain make up our diverse staff of science instructors.

In integrated science and biology students learn the basics of science. This year in physics Mr. Fromwiller took a classic approach. Students watched in awe as Mr. Fromwiller dropped a bowling ball off the roof of the school and asked what the velocity was. Doesn't that only happen in movies?

For all those who like creepy laboratory movies, join chemistry for a chance to play the role of the evil scientist. Bunsen burners, beakers, and chemicals are everyday objects in chemistry with Mr. Roth.

Mr. Baker teaches anatomy and physiology, one of the hardest classes in the school. Each year students "get" to dissect an animal. In fish tech classes, students memorably cut the adipose fins off of fish.

Mr. BAKER uses overhead technology while lecturing his anatomy class.

HISTORY/GLOBAL STUDIES

One thing is for sure, history never gets old. At AHS we are fortunate to have a few great history teachers that make learning interesting.

Sophomores learn global history and geography with Mr. Hunt and Mrs. Oien. A brief history of major countries provides students with a solid base in world history and culture.

Juniors learn U.S history with Mr. Seeborg and Mr. Jackson. From the civil war to to civil disobedience, juniors learn it all.

Frequent exams include short answer, historical significance questions, and an essay. For prospective Jackson students, have no fear, study sessions are held at Jackson's house the night before exams.

An A* project is in the works for this artistic sophomore.

Orchestra, Band, & Choir...

Astoria High School's musical program had an outstanding year with new additions and marvelous accomplishments. AHS orchestra, a combination of violins, violas, cellos, and string bass, gives students a fun opportunity to make music. After two years as the teacher of the orchestra class, Sarah Szopinski has ended her time at Astoria High School on a good note. The group accompanied by Ms. Szopinski has attended the Mt. Hood Orchestra Festival and have been performing the challenging Adagio and Symphony #12 by Dvorak. Freshman

Angela Tumbarello commented, "Music is fun and I enjoy being a part of the orchestra scene."

AHS band taught by Scott Cuthbert has expanded their horizons and to competitions in Tillamook, University of Oregon, and local competitions here in Astoria. They have performed pieces such as Motion, Corsican Litany, and a march called First Suite. Students have said how the bus rides are always fun and when you pay attention the music comes together. "Band is not a procrastinators sport," stated trumpeter Sam Clark.

Choir is made up of three different choirs, concert choir, advanced choir, and Port City choir. Concert and advanced perform more classical pieces whereas Port City is a jazz choir. The choirs have attended the Cowapa League competition and the Port City choir attended the Jazz festival in Mt. Hood. All of the choirs are taught by Matthew Pierce. The choir has sung songs such as Halleluiah Chorus, Wade in the Water, and Homeward Bound. Christina Tweed said, "Choir is a release, a way to just let go of your stress and have fun."

"Leave it at the door," refers to a door mat that the Varsity Volleyball Team brings to every game. It's kind of like their own team mascot. It means that when the girls are playing, there should be no drama on the floor. Before each game, every girl must step on the mat. It must have worked because they only lost two games throughout the entire season.

One thing that the team had was good communication. The girls worked very well as a team. They had something that isn't easy to find, and that was motivation. They were able to motivate themselves. In most cases, if a team is losing, their motivation will be lost. Fortunately, AHS was able to overcome that dilemma. There was never a game where they just gave up. Meredith Barnes described it as "perseverance," which means determination. The girls always played it out to the very end. Kristen Saulsbury said, "Just do your best, and forget the rest." Positive thinking definitely has a big impact on how you and your team play.

This year's Varsity team was outstanding! Wendi Agalzoff described it as "a lovely team." All of the girls knew at the beginning of the season that it would be a good year for everyone, but Kristen said that it was even better than she expected. The Varsity team took 1st place in the 4A Cowappa League and continued off to state.

The state championships were hosted at Lane Community College in Eugene, OR. The team had a very interesting experience there. After their first match against Henley, 11 girls decided to take the hotel elevator down to watch the semi-finals. After several minutes of absence, the coach got a call...the elevator was stuck. Eventually they were rescued after 45 minutes of "team bonding." The next day, the team was ready to take their game to the max against La Grande.

Losing to Henley, gave the Varsity girls ambition to win against La Grande. That brought them to the game that would decide if the team would go home with 4th or 6th place. After 5 consecutive games, the Astoria girls fought the whole way through. But in the end, they went home with 6th place.

One of the team's goals was to have good chemistry. You could tell that they did by watching them play. However, one thing that not all teams can accomplish is having good chemistry off the floor and the Varsity team definitely did. The girl's were a well-knit team which helped them win 6th in state, and bring Astoria's very first volleyball trophy from state.

COWAPA LEAGUE CHAMPS AND A 10-0 SEASON

ONE BEAT!

1 SEASON, 1 DREAM

This year the Varsity football team went undefeated and won the cowapa league. They showed shades of the hall of fame team of '72 "Fighting Fishermen". When not only did they win the coast-valley league and had a record 23 players make all league and went to the semi-finals of the state playoffs. The '06 team had there own success. They have the best record in a single season with ten wins and zero loses. Not only did they have a great season, they also had great leadership in their seniors, such as Andy Murray, Joey Dursse, Nathan Stinnett, Justin Tikkala, Adam Koehnke, Nick Alfonse and other seniors.

The offense this year was nothing less then amazing, averaging 38 points per game. It was led by a Sophomore, Jordan Poyer, starting as the quarterback. When asked how he stayed composed and handled all the pressure, Poyer stated "Coach puts us at different spots for a reason, plus baseball helped me too. Coach Gasser taught me to stay composed." At the start of the season Poyer and Stinnett alternated the quarterback position, eventually Poyer took over the job. "I knew at the beginning that Nathan and I were going to have a great battle between us but I was hopeful that I would be able to lead this team." The offensive line was led by five outstanding seniors. When Thomas Christensen was asked how he thought the offensive line did this year, he replied "We did freaking awesome!" Christensen also replied on having Poyer as the starting quarterback "I did not have a problem with it because he rose to the occasion." Having a good line and a good quarterback is not all we had, we also had very good running backs and recievers and awesome couches

The Fish's defense was also a force to be reckoned with, holding tough teams like Scappoose, Yamhill, and Yreka (CA) at bay. The opposing teams averaged 18 points during the entire season, plus the Fish posted two shoutouts. The defense had a bend but don't brake philosophy where they would let teams show their potential but when it came to the third and fourth quarters they would buckel down on the teams. Also they had great depth on defense switching players in every so often which help keep the fish' from getting tired.

The teams slogna for the season was "One Beat" started by Senior Nick Alfonse. This meant to work together as one and be unified. This motorteed influenced many people even the coaches. Coach Rub would contribute to the team by also tapping his hand with the letters "O.B." or "1 beat" like some of the players. Some people even started saying "If your One Beat can't be beat", but it did not get to the players and they kept to there motorteeded.

The team of '06 was one of the greatest teams in Astoria High School history. They played for each other and won Cowapa League and went to the playoffs. Although they tasted their first loss in playoffs, they set the record for most wins in the regular season. The seniors will be greatly missed, but we are looking forward to the team of '07 to keep the winning streak alive and hope-

MARCHING BAND

"Who Are You?"

The Marching Band program settled their identity conflict this year with a strong presence as much more than a club and more like a competitive sport. As in all new sports, the Marching Band spent a lot of time during the season perfecting their plays and their moves. "Who Are You?" was the theme of the band's competitive performances this fall. Sophomore Cabell Tice described the routine as a "funky rock sound" that was lots of fun to learn and to play. Though their first scores in competition were disappointing, the team continued to work together.

The hard work paid off. By the end of the Marching Band season, the group's score had risen substantially and the band members were feeling good about their efforts and successes.

Astoria girls' soccer put tough years behind them and worked to have one of the most fun and inspirational seasons yet. The team started off the season with an invitation to attend a team tournament hosted by Catlin Gable. The team came away with placing fifth as well as showing other teams competition. The girls went on to have a season full of ups and downs but came away with an amazing team bond. The girls played teams like La Salle, coming close to a win but shying away. Then, during the pre-season rush of games, Astoria played RA Long. Out of all the games this was the one to see with the girls winning 2-1. Elizabeth Coggins had an amazing game at RA Long, followed by and even more impressive season. While starting to play soccer just four short months before fall, Coggins ended with a total of 113 saves which averaged out to be 1.7 goals scored per game. On further up the field was the new line of defense. Coach Jim Flint decided to go to a 'flat back four' system, eliminating the sweeper. The back consisted of Jenae Poe, Lynnae Huber, Melissa Law, Jordan Crownover, and Sarah Pope. The defense was the key in many games of the 2006 season.

The soccer program as a whole suffered through many injuries head to toe. Going into their first Seaside game Astoria had girls just coming out of rest. The girls lost the first dual but came back at the end of the season to tie with the Gulls 1-1. The last home game against Seaside was Astoria's Senior Night for seniors Stacy Law, Maren Holyoak, Lindsay Pritchard, and Jenae Poe. Astoria showed improvement between the games, picking up the speed of play and their overall endurance to finish strong against the rivals.

On the team's award night many players were honored with Cowapa League All-Star 1st team recognition. Jenae Poe, Lynnae Huber, Melissa Law, and Elizabeth Coggins as goal keeper were all awarded with All-League certificates. Christina Wilson and Jordan Crownover were both acknowledged with Cowapa-League All-Star Honorable Mentions. Jenae Poe was also MVP Defense, Most Inspirational, and District 1 first team. Lynnae Huber was noted as the first recipient of the Iron Woman award, as well as MVP Defense, and District 1 All-Star team Honorable Mention. Captain Maren Holyoak was voted as Most Inspirational. With so much talent on the team, Astoria girls finished the season strong with team chemistry that can never be broken. Before every game the girls would shout the one cheer that carried them through the season, "One, two, three, believe!"

ANGELA TUMBARELLO

Girls JV Soccer

"The JV girls' soccer team entered the season knowing that it was going to be a challenge. The girls had dropping numbers in the beginning of the season and in many games had no subs. Team captains Mary Jo Robertson and Shilo Niziolek did their best to keep the inspired and bond as a team. Even though the team was facing a tough challenge the girls stayed strong. They continued to bond and have fun as a team. The JV team had a few team get togethers at the circus and also had a sleepover. Bill Patterson, coach of the JV girls' soccer team, decided to try something completely different for defense but then decided to return to a sweeper system.

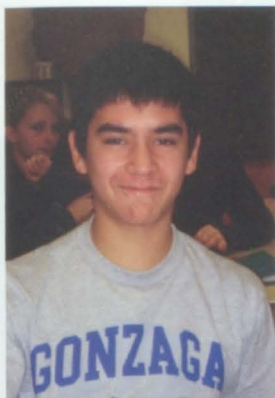

RACHEL ELLIS, ANGELA TUMBARELLO, ASHLEY HURLBURT, JODI MEYER, MARY ROBERTSON, and HELEN JOHNSON bonding as a team.

"The striker position was most often played by Angela Tumbarello, Helen Johnson, or Sandra Raya. In the midfield the JV girls had a number of contributing players such as Kelsey Manion, Malia Mergel, Jodi Meyer, and Ashley Hurlburt. The defense consisted of Rachel Ellis, Erin Schauermann, Mary Jo Robertson, Katie Mueller, Shilo Niziolek, and at the very back line, the goalie position was played by Heather Hook. During the 06' season there were many injuries which affected many of the JV players but despite all the hard times, the girls even pulled a win against Catlin Gable. This was a big accomplishment for the girls, being that they have now won against the skillful Catlin Gable team. Hopefully the girls will continue to work hard and strive to improve and have an amazing season next year!

"It was a fun season, I look forward to playing next year."

JAIR MACARENO

The Season was good, we worked hard, we just didn't make our goal."

"Boys JV soccer had a tough time this year as they lost many great players to injuries. In many games they played with only eleven players on the field with no subs. However the team pulled through and played their games with what they were dealt. JV had quite a bit of talent this year, coached by Gustavo Velazquez, the boys had a great season. The ties and wins against the other teams outweighed the losses.

The team only lost 2 games. When asked what his favorite game to play was, Sean Speer said "Seaside because the other coach was getting mad and because they are a rival school." Beating Seaside is a big deal and it really sets the tone for the oncoming games. The boys continued to do well and follow the pattern of the boys they look up to on varsity. The team also had inspiration from coaches Kevin Speer, Gustavo Velazquez, Jerry Boisvert,

"And Gordon Thomson. Hard workouts from coach Gustavo finally paid off in the end to get the boys a winning season. JV player Zack Norton said, "I think that we had a very good season and that many of the JV players are going to step up to varsity next year creating a good team." The outlook for next year is looking bright, hopefully the boys can come together, make the next season even better than the last, and continue having fun doing what they do, play soccer.

Fighting at the top of the pack

... stayed on top

... and succeeded

The Astoria boys soccer team had an extremely successful season clinching league halfway through the season and holding their league record to 13-0-1. Their schedule involved three games with each league opponent. There were only two preseason games but both were matches.

The first pre-season game was against Wilsonville, a strong 5A team. The Astoria team was able to pull out a victory 2-1 in a back and forth battle royale. The second preseason skirmish was with the Hidden Valley Mustangs, this game turned out to be an aggressive battle to the end, losing Alfredo Garcia to a broken shin. Astoria had three show-downs with their rivals, the Seaside Seagulls providing for three very intense games. The Fish swept the Gulls in all three games relatively easily.

The Astoria boys held the top position on the 4A Coaches Poll throughout the entire season, over other great teams like La Salle, Hidden Valley, and eventual two time state champion, the Mcgloughlin Pioneers. They deserved to be there, showing super-human ball skills and fundamentals. They were lead by a core of 9 seniors and many younger just as talented underclassmen.

Team unity grew immensely over the course of the season. From the bus rides of bliss to the practices of good team work, no one was left behind. During every practice if someone fell behind the team cheered them on since you are only as strong as your weakest link. The team was focused and practiced hard for a common goal "to win state."

They had high hopes of winning the state championship, which was a respectable goal. Even though the season did not unfold the way they wanted they could all look back and remember the successful season they had.

The graduating class taught the younger players team unity, determination, cooperation and enthusiasm to hopefully start them out on a good foot next season. They lost in their first game of the state playoffs to the Phoenix Pirates who put up a hard fight and took the Astoria team by surprise. They can look back and see how much they grew as a team, both on the field and off.

New Season, New Girls

May The Force Be With You

XC Girls

The Astoria High School's girls Cross Country started out this season with a gnarly new beginning. The new runners for this year are, Kelly Silva, Mariah Rudolphi, Kamila Swerdloff, Maylsa Baxter, Marilyn Brooks, Clara Weidman, Wiebke Grillman, and Alicia Keller. Wiebke Grillman is an exchange student from Germany who also ran for cross country back at her home.

At the first meet in Tillamook, the girls tried their best but as the season kept going, they started to succeed. By the end of the Pre District meet, the girl's result was 52.

Girl's Cross Country won 2nd place at Districts, only off by a staggering one point lose to Seaside. It's been two years since the girls went to State with a strong team. Even though the girls were pumped, they had to focus on going to state and start working hard.

At state they ran their hearts out and placed 14th. Next year they're expecting to do better, work hard, and have more new additions to the Astoria Girls Cross Country team. Not only are the girl's looking forward for another radical year, but so is Coach Barker.

"All the girls of the qualifying team are coming back next year so we will have a good chance at districts."

-Spence Barker

What is the best memory you had of XC?

The Astoria lamook runner. MIKE and a very strong runner.

The whole season was a celebration in wins and losses. The team proved to have runners with very mixed strengths, to complete an awesome team and great season. The JV boys showed hope for the team in the near future. Having seniors MIKE POUNDERS and SKYLER BUTENSHON leave the team will be a loss, but strong runners like ROSS MACDOUGAL, DARYK MCCOY and REY GOICHEA will hopefully return next year. The boys will look back, and smile at the successful season this year.

A New Season, A New Beginning

This season the Girl's Varsity has a new addition to the team but its not a player, its an assistant coach. Coach Leo just moved here from Arizona and is also a teacher at AHS. Back in Arizona, he coached a catholic school girl's basketball. Even though he is new, the basketball team gets along with him very well. Their first league game against Seaside Seagulls was intense but at the end the ladies won with the score of 39-36. With the spirit of the team and the fans, the ladies were psyched for their next game against Tillamook Cheese Makers. Through out the season the girls were making their way to the end of the season with wins and some losses. Though they lost to Seaside their second last game, they were still excited and ready to play Banks Braves. Everyone came to the girl's varsity game to cheer them on. At the last minute of the game, the ladies put all their effort and by the end the girls won! With the score of 51-43, they still had one more game. The girl's tried fighting to win the game but by the end they lost. At the end of the season two of the varsity players made All League, juniors Jamie Coggins and Cristina Wilson. Next year the girls will only lose one player Kelly Roman but they will miss her and motivating spirit. Also they will be ready for the new season.

GIRLS' JV BASKETBALL 1 & 2:

Groovy Moments of the Season:

1

During the Pre-season, Astoria JV Girls stomped the Knappa Loggers twice, 57-17 and 50-18. Both killings were home games.

2.

Four freshmen proved to be a very nice addition to the Junior Varsity team this year. Lead point guard this season was freshman KAYCE LILLEY joined by other freshmen newbies TAYLA MCGINNIS, MARIAH RUDOLFI, and JORDAN THORESON. These four players teamed up with the more experienced sophomores, to equal a successful season.

3.

What started out a very large JV2 team, with 11 players, ended up downsizing. The team lost players to injuries, bad grades and illness. Some games only six JV2 players suited up, which forced DOYLE to play some of the freshman JV players.

Many awards were given to honor the hardworking players on the JV and JV2 teams this season.

2. The Jv2 girls zip down the court during Coach Doyle's famous warm-up which includes jumping, defense slides, quick feet and sprinting.
3. The Astoria post players from left, Dani Stevens, Mariah Rudolphi, and Brooke Shauermen, make themselves more intimidating by putting their game faces on, and their arms up.
4. SARAH POPE lines her foot up, dribbles a few times, and centers herself at the hoop, before lifting the ball to the basket, during a freethrow shot.
5. ALICIA KELLER of the JV2 Fishermen, gets a little air while attempting a block during a Warrenton game at home.
6. Coach Steinback and his JV girls gather during a timeout.
7. ELIZABETH "BUG" COGGINS makes a quick pass, trying to beat the 10 second press clock down the court.
8. Charlene Harbor prevents a player from receiving a pass during a home Fishermen game.

and a good run to the playoffs

When you think of great basketball teams some teams you might throw out there are the 76ers of the 70's, the Lakers of the 80's, the Bulls of the 90's or even some college teams like the Fab Five at Michigan. These are teams that accomplished something memorable. This year, Astoria High had one of those great teams using fast breaks, going on an amazing scoring run and making use of great team work.

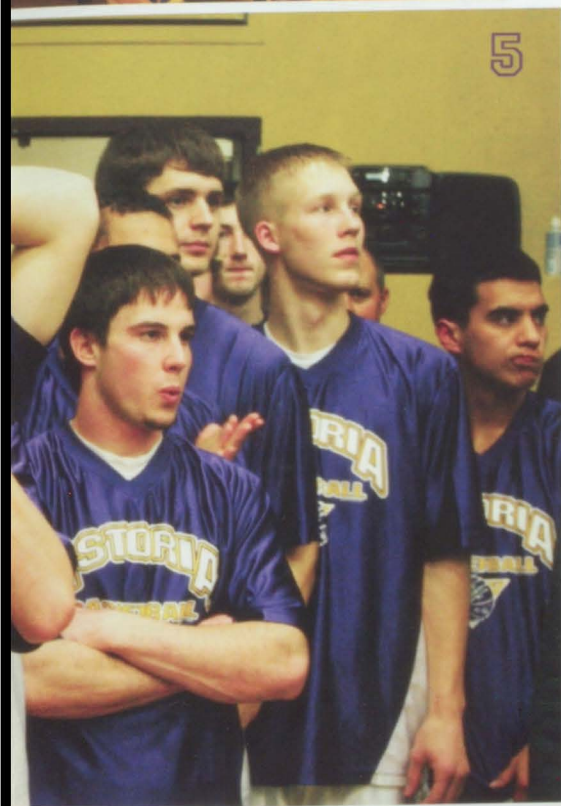

The Fish started this year off in 8th place in the AP polls. They opened the league against the Mook's, where Anderson hit the game winner at the buzzer after Murray tied it up at 49 which was a "brick house miracle". The Fish barely got away with that one. Next they would be going in to the Y-C game where the boys were ranked 4 and Y-C was 1. Everyone knew it was going to be good, even though Y-C got away with one at the championship of the Cowapa League preview. The boys started off with the lead and held it until the second half, but Y-C caught up to them. The game stayed close until Andy Murray picked up his second technical foul. The Fish boys began to lose focus and headed into a downward spiral when Josimar picked up his fifth foul. At the end of the game, the boys had tasted their first loss in the Cowapa League all year. The next week was Banks and the Fishermen thought that it would not be a close game, but the Braves turned out to have more than they thought they did. Once again, a little "brick house miracle" from Brian Anderson hitting the buzzer beater to win the game. After three close games in a row, the boys needed a run away game and that's what Seaside gave them. The Fish started the game quickly picking up a nineteen point lead and held the Gulls to just two points till the second quarter. The crowd started chanting, "It's all over!" at the start of the second quarter, which it really was.

Heading into the second half of the season the boys lost three close games to Tillamook, Yamhill and Banks. Their frustration was high over what some felt was questionable calling by the referees. The loss of these three games left the boys with only a long-shot at making the playoffs. They had to beat Seaside. After beating Seaside for the second time in the Clatsop Clash, the boys were excited to find out that Y-C beat Scappoose because that meant that the Fishermen boys would be in the playoffs.

The boys had to play Banks in the first round, which meant payback. They dominated the Braves and got ready to play the Ontario Tigers. Although the Fish's fans were not able to attend the game, the "brick house" spirit was alive at home as students listened to the game in the commons, which was a lot of fun. The boys were having fun themselves, winning a 59 to 48 victory that sent them to the next round. The next opponent was the Stayton Eagles. This was the game that could send the boys to where they wanted to get all season; the state tournament. Even though the boys fell behind in the first half, they made a good comeback. However, it was too little, too late and their run toward State had come to an end. But it was still an excellent season.

Pushing through sickness and fevers, girls swimming comes out on top

The Astoria girls swim team had it rough this year. Losing four major point-scorers to graduation in 2006, the girls team started out the 06-07 season wildly hunting for more swimmers. The first swim meet of the season was the Andrew Nygard Invitational. Out-numbered by almost every other team, the Astoria girls swim team came in second. The girls took third at the Tillamook Invitational and the Newport Invitational. Girls swimming also scored a second place trophy at the Dalles Invitational.

League began with Astoria vs. Scappoose and Astoria Girls won 99-66. Astoria Girls also beat Rainier 100-66. At the Seaside Duel Meet, Astoria girls beat seaside 96-68. Astoria girls ended league by beating Tillamook 106-34.

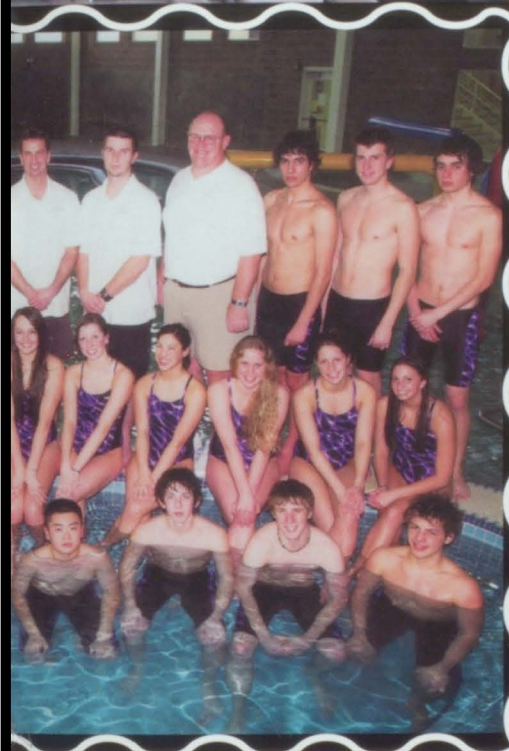

Astoria Girls swim team won league 6-0! Then the girls came in first at the Fish Hall of Fame Invitational.

Then came Districts. On the first day almost every single girl was feeling a bit under the weather, but they all pushed through and pulled out some amazing swims nonetheless. Day two was a little tougher, most swimmers were tired from the day before, and much of the adreniline had worn off. By the last event, the 4x100 freestyle relay, Astoria was tied with Taft. Whoever won the relay won the whole meet and the District title.

Astoria's 4x100 freestyle relay consisted of Wendi Agalzooff, Meredith Barnes, Clara Weidman and Bridget Nurning. They beat Taft, securing another District Banner for Astoria.

Bridget Nurning made it to state individually in the 50 yd freestyle. Both the 4x50 and the 4x100 relay teams made it to state also. The 4x50 relay team swam second day at state, and broke the school record with a 1:48:57. They came in 6th. Congratulations Astoria Girls Swimming!

Fishermen continue to fight.. ...After losing many seniors

With a huge loss of seniors and small turn out of swimmers, the boys team didn't look like a very strong force in the Cowapa. Many of the returning swimmers had to step up and work twice as hard to make up for the loss. With the Andrew Nygaard Invitational coming fast, the fishermen didn't know what to expect. But the boys stole 1st place, showing that they were a powerful team after all.

With their second meet approaching, the swimmers needed to prepare to hold their lead. The boys went to the Tillamook invitational and crushed the competition taking 1st. The swim team with a 2-0 lead went into the Newport invitational not knowing if their perfect record was going to be blemished, but they held strong and brought home another gold. Seaside, outraged with Astoria's amazing wins, challenged the team to another dual meet. Unfortunately for the Gulls, their lack of luster was taken for granted and the Fishermen prevailed.

With steam building behind them, the boys went to The Dalles expecting first place and nothing less. The boys killed winning 8 out of the 11 events gaining 5th place. Many of the new swimmers were beating their own records every race. Eddy Duret took charge, winning the 200 freestyle and 100 backstroke with no problem. The team continued to dominate in the water, and with the season's end coming, the team looked to be untouchable.

The boys swim team knew that Tillamook had a good team and expected a good meet. After the final swimmers left the pool, the points were counted. The team knew it was going to be close but no one expected Tillamook to beat them. Astoria went home that night with their first loss.

Not knowing what to expect anymore, the team went to their next meet planning on taking the gold. Astoria took first again, restoring some of the swimmer's faith. After their recovery from their single loss, Astoria went on a winning streak until league arrived.

With a broken rib, Team Captain John Skillman still swam, helping the team score as many points as possible and helping secure 2nd place finish in league.

With many of the boys sick from Astoria's beautiful weather, the boys didn't know how well they would do at Districts. But on the opening day of districts the boys challenged everyone showing their strength, not knowing what to expect from other teams. Then the second day came, the swimmers gave it their all but once again the team was beaten and was only able to secure 3rd place.

The swim team had a good year and there is much to celebrate. Next year's team will have lots to live up to.

And the Competition goes Down for the Count 1..2..3..

The door opened for the Fighting Fishermen at the end of the 2006-07 season. Scappoose and Tillamook were still the upper class of the league, and with the traditional power of the Rainier team out of the picture, that left the door open for the Fishermen. The Fishermen planned on taking advantage of this year's league, but what they didn't know was how far it would take them.

When each opposing teams member wrestles, all eyes are on the struggle between the two athletes in the center; each struggling for the upper hand. The team bellows advice and encourages their wrestler to keep him going. In an instant they are all on their feet cheering, as the referee slams his hand down on the mat declaring the winner of the home team victorious.

"Our goal is always to place as many people in Districts and State as possible." Head Coach Camden McFarland stated boldly recently, "We have a high percentage of success when it comes to placing people." His words carry a lot of weight when one views the tenacity of the current wrestling team. The outlook of the wrestlers themselves is especially bright.

"We're going to do well," Jake Banta said as he was preparing for his upcoming match. Banta is predicted to do very well in the future, having eighteen wins tucked securely within his belt and holding second place in district standings.

With the intensity that he competes with, a possible state title may not be far off. Considering the fact that Astoria hasn't yet earned an individual Championship title for itself, this is exciting news.

State has always presented a problem for Astoria when it comes to grabbing the title. Before the term of the new century, the Fishermen had placed only 5 individuals in the state competition. Numerous competitors have placed themselves in state every year after, no small feat to be assured, but not single one took a state championship title home for the team.

...GONE!

Astoria Varsity Softball 2007 was a hit! 8 wins left this team in high spirits. Of course there were a few bumps to smooth out but it was to be expected.

This year Alex Hillard was back as pitcher. She helped bring the team's spirit back along with the seniors, Kelly Roman, Amy Chaloux, Emily Burrell, Alicia Sprague, Jessica Curry, and Sam Koskela. There were plenty of additions to the team this year including the freshmen, Shelby Haskell, Shelby Coggins, Jordan Thoreson and Caitlin Voller.

Sam Koskela told us, "It was a very successful season, we may have not won many games, but we played together as a team a lot better." She added, "The new kids on the team this year were great."

Freshman Kelly Silva, who sometimes played Varsity, said, "They had spunk!" And they did. During games, they were up on the fence encouraging their teammates as much as possible.

This year there was another addition, but this was to the field. Finally, the outfield got a bright fence. The fence was a big help for the outfielders and prevented scoring runs for the other teams.

The softball team had a good run this year. With the help of everyone, the Astoria Varsity Softball team finished with 8-15 and 4-9 Cowapa. Good job girls!

Last year, the JV softball team barely had enough players to play but this season there is a new group of freshman and there were a lot of them. The new freshmen are Courtney Carlson, Michelle Dowell, Rachel Ellis, Brandi Falconer, Colleen Gunn, Shawna Hatchell, Marissa Hougham, Ashley Johnson, Tayla McGinnis, Terrah Nolan, Kelly Silva, and Caitlyn Voeller. Not only do they have new players, they have a new coach. Stacey Miehe may be new but she has been coaching a long time. Miehe coached the Warrenton high school's Varsity softball team for four years. There is only one original team player, Junior Sara Teson who's been playing for the JV ever since she was a freshman. After a few league games, Caitlyn Voeller moved up to the varsity team and Tayla McGinnis started swinging for both teams.

The Fishermen had yet another spectacular baseball season. The boys started off a little shaky by losing the first three pre-season games, but those losses only helped them to come back with a vengeance that would break numerous records. According to Coach Dave Gasser, the team felt a great amount of pressure from the community, students, and fans due to the previous year's state championship. Fortunately, the Fighting Fishermen stepped up to the plate with a confidence that would help them have a successful season.

The season was full of highlights. In the game against the South Umqua Lancer's, Mathias Brause pitched ten strikeouts, helping to end the game at a 9-0 win. The game versus the Hidden Valley Mustangs had many fantastic features, as well. The boys managed to hit six doubles and senior Adam Koehnke hit a triple and also had a steal for home plate. Sophomore Mason Brause hit an in-field homerun and Brendan Landwehr also hit a homerun, allowing three runs for his teammates.

The boys finished with an amazing record of twenty-five wins and only four losses. They were inevitably the Cowapa league champions and even set multiple records. The Fishermen had the longest winning streak with twenty-five wins in a row, the highest batting average, and the most wins in the overall baseball program. Although the boys did not walk away with the state title, they set some outstanding records that will be remembered for many years. The Fishermen placed second in the state, which is still highly commendable.

In addition to the many records set, Astoria's seniors Mathias Brause, Brent Culver, Brendan Landwehr, Adam Koehnke, Joey Durrse, and Nick Bredleau were selected as all-Cowapa league. Additionally, juniors Tom Jaworski, Hans Lund and sophomores Jordan Poyer and Mason Brause were also chosen for all-Cowapa league. The honors don't stop there: Mathias Brause, Jordan Poyer, Brent Culver, and Tom Jaworski were picked for making the first team All-State and Brendan Landwehr received third team All-State.

In all, the Astoria Fishermen worked hard even in the off seasons allowing them to play with great confidence and skill. They stepped up under the pressure of the community and even though they didn't walk away with a state title, they made all of the fans just as proud.

BOYS GOLF Better Than Expectations

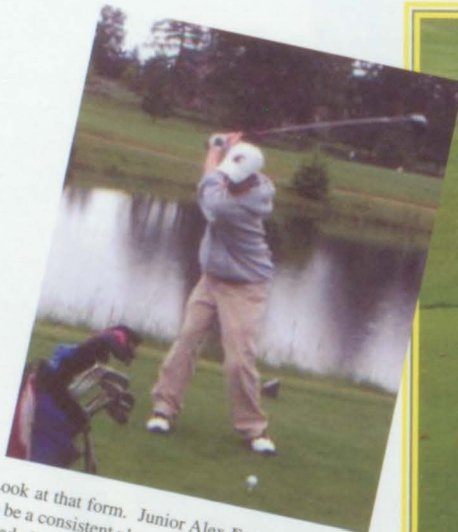

Good Times at Astoria Country Club. Craig Folgner and Coach Foss strike a pose down by the practice putting green where a main chunk of practice time was spent.

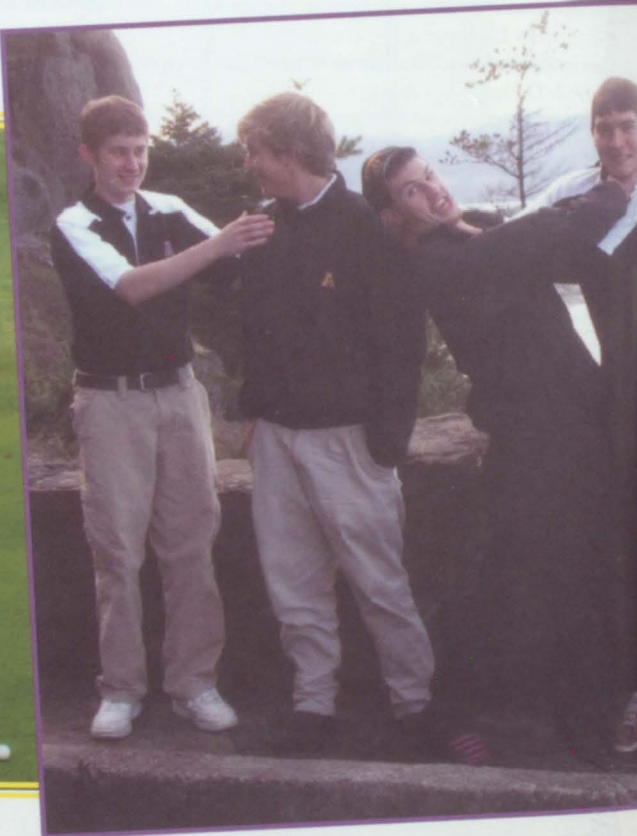

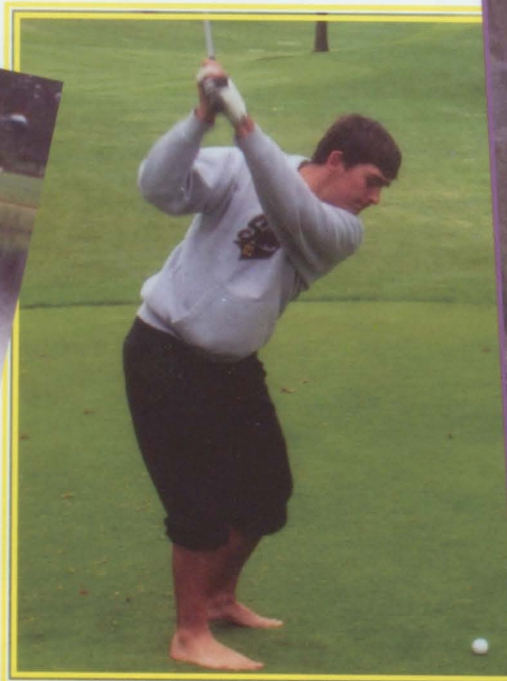

JUSTIN LITWIN

Boom, that ball just exited the atmosphere. CRAIG FOLGNER AND ALEX FERBER watch the ball after Craig crushes the ball down the fairway with incredible power. Craig was consistently known all season for having outstanding power over the other players.

Look at that form. Junior Alex Ferber was known to be a consistent player all season long. When you needed someone to come through and post a good score Ferber was there with his excellent form.

THOMAS BARBIC

Look at that view. Standing on the cliffs of the Pacific Ocean near Coos Bay ALEX FERBER, CRAIG FOLGNER, AND THOMAS BARBIC pose happily as they get to play a round at Bandon Dunes. The whole golf team took a trip of a lifetime during Spring Break to Coos Bay where they were blessed with the opportunity to play at Pacific Dunes and Bandon Dunes for free. It was a blast and a real learning opportunity.

Rebuilding their team throughout the year, the Golf Team ... stepped up to the tee ... and hit for the green

The Astoria Boys Golf Team had a extremely successful season even after preseason goals were low. After losing all but two varsity golfers the team had to scrounge for players willing to step up and fill those rolls. Lead by returning golfers Craig Folgner and Alex Ferber they rallied together to a surprising finish.

At the beginning of the season the boys set goals during a preseason meeting based on previous year averages. With the goal a 350 for a Varsity team averaging scores of 374 the expectations were low and that is usually when teams can only do better then expected. During the season everyone put in many hours at the driving range and putting greens perfecting the basics. A main focus of this team was to concentrate on the short game since about 50% of your strokes come from putting. Good golfers do not become good by playing the course alone but mostly you see improvement when you spend time using repetition to improve play. When you have a flaw in your swing and you try and change it, at times it can take up to 700 swings to change muscle memory and fix a swing.

As guest at the country club too they could only practice for two and 1/2 hours three days a week. This was a disadvantage since most of the other teams get to practice 5 days a week, because of this disadvantage the Astoria Boys had to make every second count. There was little time to mess around but the team found ways to have fun anyways.

This years district tournament was a close one and was almost a reverse of the results in 2005. Scappoose who was six strokes behind Tillamook on Monday turned it on when Astoria needed them to crumble. Astoria who was 11 strokes out of second place needed Tillamook or Scappoose to screw up but it didn't happen. Scappoose turned in a 663 team score, topping second-place Tillamook (665) Astoria (674), Seaside (689) and Banks (690). On the second day Astoria turned in a 337 tying Scappoose for the best team score of the day. They missed there goal of going to state as a team but by no means are they dissappointed in the results. They can focus on the good and they did about how they improved 37 strokes over the course of the season thats almost ten strokes per person per round thats huge. Scappoose overcame a six-stroke deficit following Monday's round to fire a 663 team score, topping second-place Tillamook (665). Astoria (674), Seaside (689) and Banks (690) rounded out the team scoring.

Since the team did not get to go as a whole at least Alex Ferber placed in top three at districts and was able to compete in state at Stone Creek. He gave a valiant effort and represented Astoria Golf in a positive manner and tied for 30th. The season can be characterized as a huge success for Astoria Boys Golf.

Senior Spotlight

Although she couldn't play, Senior Jessica Thornburg stuck by the girl's golf team.

"It was exceptionally hard this year, but in the end the top girls stuck with it and we did the best we could."

This year the girls golf team has had their share of troubles. The biggest problem was not having enough players. Senior Jessica Thornburg has been on the team since she was a freshman. This year she could not play because of her elbow, so she helped coach. Their only returning player was sophomore Amy Vinson, but luckily they pulled it together and got another player, senior Ashlee Galik and as time went by another player came out, Junior Erin Miller. The team made it by with 3 players and Thornburg's help with coaching. At districts only two players showed, missing the other, the season did not end in their favor.

Update: Astoria Girls Fishermen team reel in a third place trophy at state with 56 points. All of which was from the four fielders from the six fishermen athletes. 52 of the points were scored the first day by Jamie Coggins, Laura Bobek and Charlene Harber. The last four points were racked up by KJ Carr and her javelin. This was the first trophy taken home in 25 years. In 1980, Astoria finished 7th, with all its 20 points coming from Kam Johnson, a double winner in both the discus and the shotput. The boys did just as well. High Jumper Chris Meyer took a 6th place medal and wiped out his PR with a jump of 6'2". Also the 4x1 team consisting of John Heick, Andres Lopez, Kyle McMullen and Steven Wentworth took 6th. And disappointments for Justin Tikkala, he long jumped to 7th place at state and Alex Whitaker shotputted a fifth place finish. Astoria scored the most points in Astoria state history, and the Fishermen have high hopes for the near future.

GIRL'S TRACK AND FIELD

Returning athletes lead the team to victory...

What was the highlight of your 2007 Track and Field Season?

The highlight of my season is when I cleared 5'0 in high jump.

- MARILYN BROOKS

The thing I will remember most this season is how well our team did at districts. Everybody had a PR including myself, and everybody contributed to our success at districts.

- JORDAN CROWNOVER

Jamie Coggins holds her snug 2nd place Discus record behind 1st place Laura Bobek. Except for the Banks invite, in where Coggins flew the discus a little further than Bobek,

HILARY O'BRYAN sprints the last leg of the 4x1, after being handed the baton from teammate LYNNAS HUBER at Seaside's Daily Astorian Invite Top Varsity Javelin thrower KJ CARR exhibits perfect throwing form at the Pre-Lim Districts meet.

Liz Assen clears the hurdle 5'6" and goes home with the 5th place title, while competing during the very hot Scappoose duel.

MARILYN BROOKS with a steady two second lead on her competitors in the high hurdles.

... and new additions to the team mix it up a bit.

"Runners get your blocks... SET... JANAS POE focuses on her footing getting into the blocks, and waits for the gun bang at the start of the 100 High Hurdles.

The Pole Valettes HALEY GUSTAPSON and KELSEY TAKKO have everything to smile about at the Poole duel, Gustafsen steals 3rd clearing 6'6" and Takko close behind with a 4th place 6' vault.

Olympic potential in any of her throwing events, LAURA BOBEK focuses on her discus throw during The Daily Astorian.

An average track meet for the lady fisherman track and field leaves other teams in the dust, literally. Although girls placed second in districts to Scappoose this year, a talented group of girls continued on to state, and the team as a whole left some big shoes to fill for next year.

Success can be attributed to athletes such as LAURA BOBEK and JAMIE COGGINS. First and second in the Cowapa League, these throwers led the team. In discus BOBEK is ranked 1st in state, and COGGINS is ranked 5th. As for shot-put, BOBEK is ranked 1st and COGGINS is ranked 4th. Another key player is CHARLENE HARBOR. This season she has broken the triple jump record, twice, with a final jump of 35' 3.5". CHARLENE also broke the long jump record this year. Her success in the 100 and 200 sprints makes her a key runner in the girls 4x100 relay.

Another younger star athlete is MADDY ADEE, who has dominated the 800, 400, and 300 hurdles this season. MARILYN BROOKS made it to state as the only freshman from Astoria in the 100 Hurdles. Astoria girls had a big turnout of younger girls this season, and some stars in the making are KAYCE LILLEY in the javelin, KAMILA SWERDLOFF in the 3000, and MARIAH RUDOLFI in the 400.

This year's track and field success can be attributed to not only talent of the athletes, but great coaching.

Coach OIEN took over pole vaulting and high jump this year, Coach ELLSBURG returned to help out throwers, DOYLE coached jumpers and hurdlers, and Coach GOODENBURGER aka GOODY tortured the long distance runners yet again. The track and field program wouldn't be possible without head Coach JACKSON, who got the team through their five dual meets, six invitationals, and coached javelin as well. Three empty spaces are in the AHS Records Wall, Charlene broke her own record in the long jump, then broke Katrinka Jackson's record in the triple jump, three times. Then there is always Laura Bobek, who broke Kam Johnson's discus record. And both of MADDY ADEE and SARAH POPE fly over the 300 Hurdles during the District Pre-Lims, both landing themselves in the finals.

TOP ROW: JORDAN CROWNOVER, MARY JO ROBERTSON, LIZ ALCOCK, ANDREA PHILLIPS, KELCIE SAGEN, CHELSEA CAMERON, LAURA BOBEK, JANAS POE, LYNNAE HUBER, KJ CARR, MARIAH RUDOLFI, KAYCE LILLEY, AND MARILYN BROOKS.
BOTTOM ROW: CHARLENE HARBOR, HALEY GUSTAPSON, MADDY ADEE, SARAH POPE, MELISSA LAW, KELSEY TAKKO, KAMILA SWERDLOFF, CLARA WIEDMEN, JAMIE COGGINS AND BROOKE SHAUERMANN.

Throw Further, Jump Higher, and Run Faster

The boy's track team was something to be proud of this season, coming out with a district title and much improved athletes.

After a successful run of events during the 2006 track season, the boys looked to the new year with high hopes. Upon entering the season, senior Kyle McMullen suffered a sprained ankle but, showing amazing resilience, he was able to play an important part in the boy's 4x1.

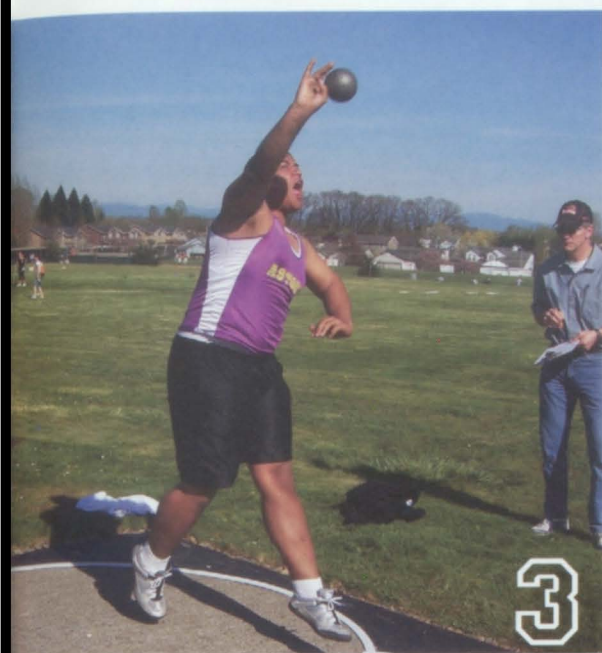

All during the season the lack of attendance at meets made it difficult for the boys to reach full potential and the 4x1 was no exception. The first fully-prepared performance was at districts. After breaking the school record of 44.44 (FAT) at districts, they went on to beat it once again with a time of 44.18 (FAT) in the preliminaries at state.

Another important component to the relay was senior Steven Wentworth who overcame challenges and injuries to get to state in the 400 meter as well as the relay. Senior Justin Tikkala made a remarkable debut for his first year of track during high school. At state he jumped 21' as a personal record plac ing him at 7th place. Placing 11th in state with a javelin throw of 155' 08 was senior Nathan Stinnet. Stinnet went to state his sophomore through senior year and had a strong finish. Throwing well all season in the shot, Alex Whitaker traveled to state his senior year.

To top off a sound 2 win-3 loss season, Astoria won the Cowapa League Districts with 134 1/2 points. Seaside took second with just one half of a point less. Coach Lynn Jackson added how proud he was of the boy's three-peat, three district titles, won while he has been head coach.

PIZZAZ!

Dancing for a New Revolution

Astoria's Pizzaz dance team was put into a difficult situation by being placed into a new division this year, 4A (no size) division. Because there wasn't a limit of dancers per team, this meant that Pizzaz would have to compete with teams that had tripled the amount of dancers. However, Pizzaz came into the season determined and with their heads held high. Captain Karlee Johnson stated, "It has been a transitional year, we lost four seniors last year and gained a lot of new members, so we don't rebuild, we reload." Even though it was a "transitional year," the overall attitude of the team stayed positive and optimistic. The dance team members came together to practice hard and more importantly, have fun. The Pizzaz seniors agreed that competitions were one of their favorite aspects of the dance team experience because it included a fun day of eating, dancing, meeting people from other teams, joking around, and playing games.

The team chose to dance to the theme of "dancing for a new generation." Captains Anthony Kustura and Karlee Johnson said they were inspired by the fusion of ballet and hip hop after watching the movie, Step Up. They were able to showcase their team's ballet talents and each individual's unique style. Their state dance included an eclectic style of dancing with classic ballet, swing dancing, jazz and hip hop.

Pizzaz pulled away with a 7th place at state facing some tough competition. They had many laudable achievements throughout the season including taking first place at the Liberty competition. Sina Fastabend stated, "[My favorite competition was] Liberty because we took first and everyone finally started getting along and it boosted our confidence." In addition, the four seniors who auditioned for the special All-State dance team were all accepted. They competed with girls from all over the state, and made up a third of the All-State team, an enormous accomplishment.

Out from the bottom

In 2004, Astoria's School District reformed the school structure and put sixth grade back into the elementary school mix, which left seventh and eighth graders in the middle school. This reconstruction of the school system occurred when the Class of 2009 were seventh graders, placing them at the bottom of the pile, once again. Sophomore Nikki Jones stated, "It was nice not being the underdog for once!" The year following the class of '09s reign in the middle school put them at the bottom once again as freshmen. The class got through the year with flying colors and are now officially out of the first year struggle. They have gone through many changes and still have managed to keep their heads held high. With grades and behavior at their best, the sophomore class has battled through another spectacular year. "From here, all we can go is up!" exclaimed Sophomore Melissa Law.

Meet our ending class officers! Jodi Meyer, sophomore class president, Shelly Gregory, vice president, and Reynaldo Goicochea, secretary/treasurer.

Our ending class officers!

Second semester brought many new changes, including a change of class officers. Jodi Meyer became sophomore class president with the help of vice president, Shelly Gregory, and secretary/treasurer, Reynaldo Goicochea. The three agreed that becoming a class officer was a great experience to lead their sophomore class and set the mold for what the class of 2009 is to become.

Wise words from our sophomore class officers

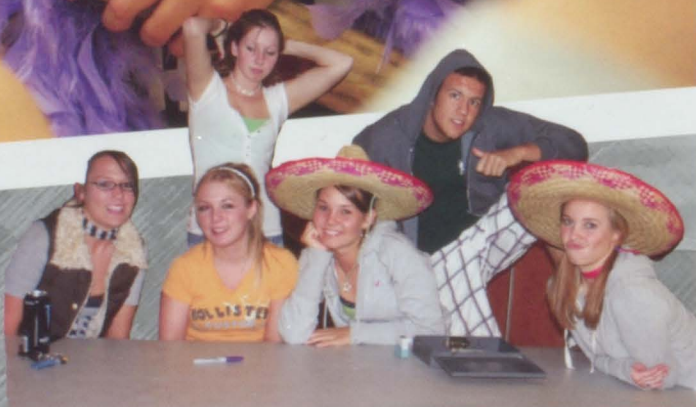

"Our class has been through a lot together and learned a lot, too. Now we can finally attack high school together one step at a time." --Jodi Meyer

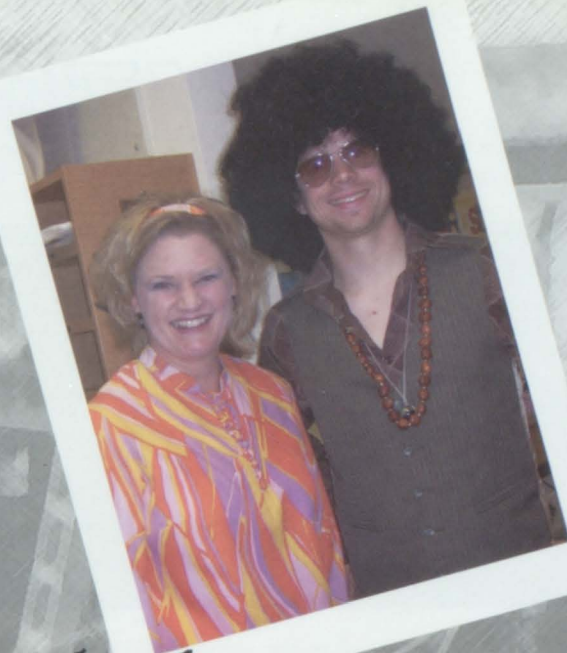

"I'm so proud of my fellow classmates because I feel that we, as a whole, are setting a new standard with our academic, athletic and leadership abilities and I cannot wait to see what the future holds." --Shelly Gregory

"With our eyes looking forward to the future, and our hearts full of academic passion, our fates are imaginable." --Reynaldo Goicochea

OLYMPIC SPIRIT

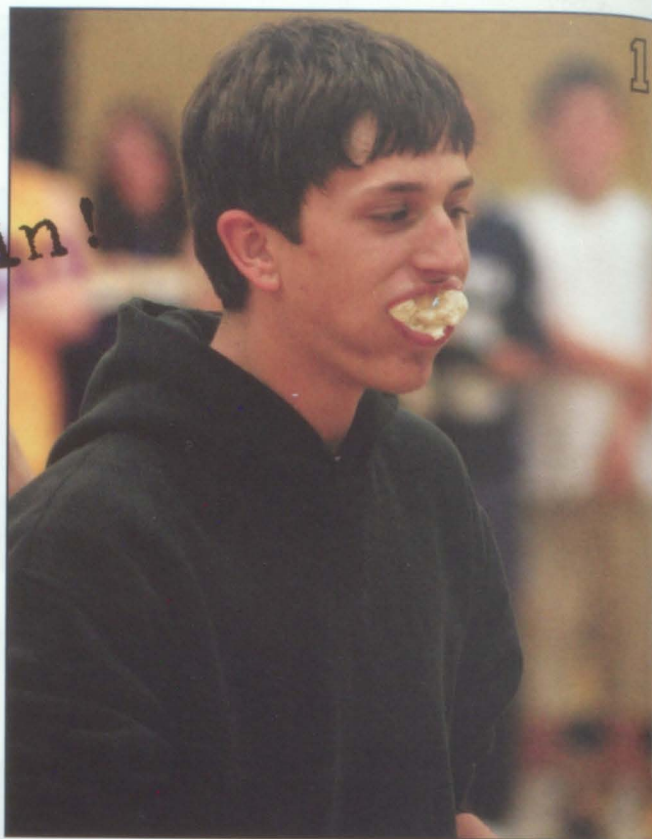

Let the Games Begin!

The games at this years' olympics were chubby bunny, the disco relay, bob for fish and the tug-of-war.

In chubby bunny, the contestants had to put one marshmellow at a time into their mouth, then say "chubby bunny."

The disco relay the contestants were in a race to put on disco clothes, and shoot baskets, then run back to the start.

Bobbing for fish was sweedish fish in a pool of canned, the contestants would bob their head in the pool to collect as many sweedish fish as they could, only using their mouths.

- 2- The Senior Car
- 3- The Sophomore Float
- 4- The Freshmen Float

This year the juniors brought home the winning float. The sophomores had a similar design, but only 5 people, where as the juniors had about 25 which lead them to being the winners of the float competition.

The freshmen had a very creative float, using an old VW Bug, sitting in it with the top down and a board in the front that said "Drive In Movie" so it looked like a movie screen.

The seniors had a car that was decorated in purple and gold, but they did not have a float.

HOMECOMING DANCE

Fever ... in the mornin' Fever all through the night!

High school dances are usually all the same, meet up with your date, eat dinner, and dance until you drop. This Years Homecoming was different. It was a night for the record books. Girls in party dresses and guys in their fancy pants, the dance was looking like it was bound for success.

Not only was Homecoming a blast, there was an awesome and fun theme. The theme chosen was "Friday Night Fever."

If anything was feverish, it would have to be the people on the dance floor. The party spirit was contagious. Music pounding, and speakers blasting to their fullest, The AHS Homecoming Dance was a screaming success.

Nothing could dampen our spirits, not even the fire alarm that interrupted our blissful utopia. While waiting for permission to re-enter the commons and be sure the alarm was a feau, students were dancing and singing songs to keep the party going. After about 30 minutes, students were allowed back on the dance floor for the last few brief moments of bliss. All in all, Homecoming Dance was an amazing and memorable experience.

"Was it fun?"

-THOMAS CHRISTENSEN

Sadie Hawkins

Gettin' Hitched and Cowboy Hats

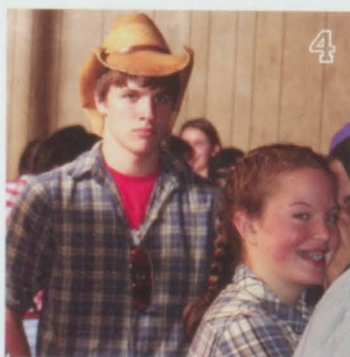

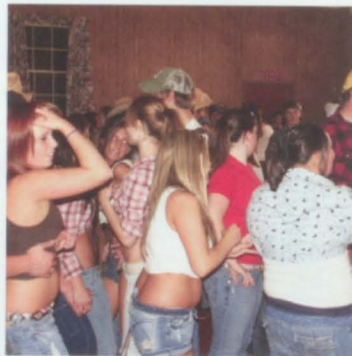

This year's Sadie Hawkins was about the same as any other Sadies, but it was held at the Olney Grange rather than the AHS commons or the Clatsop County Fairgrounds. There was also a limited number of ticket sales due to the Grange being much smaller than the places it has been held previously. Although it was a smaller place, there was still a fairly large group of people.

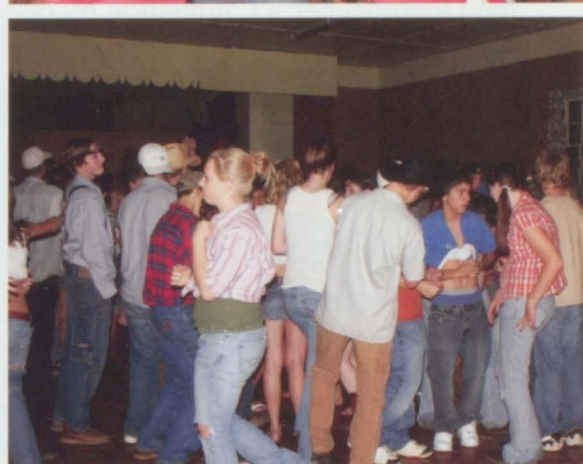

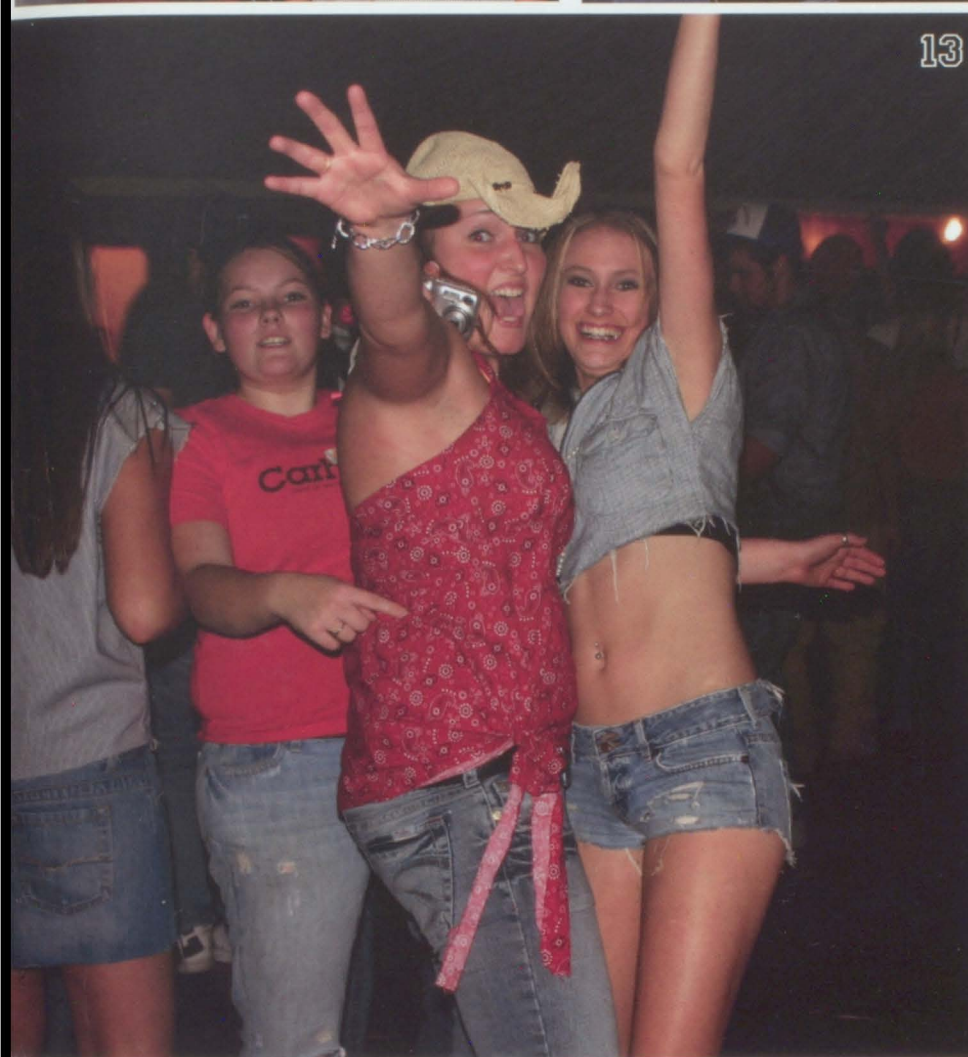

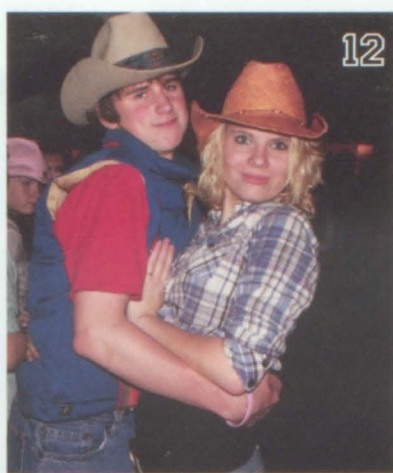

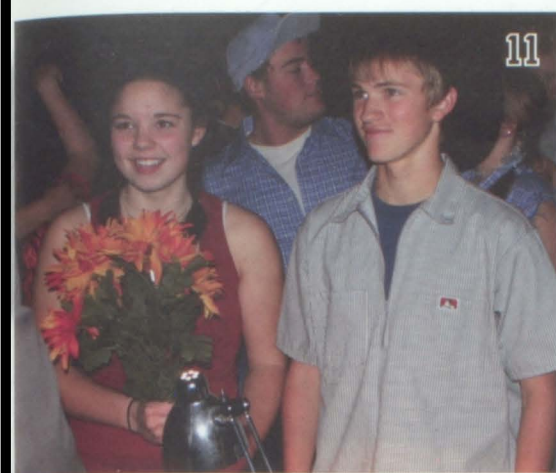

Another difference from this year's Sadies to past years was there was food, and much less security. "The fruit punch was good-- it was fruit punch with ice cream stuff in it," said Clayton Huffman.

"It was like all the other Sadies: people danced, took pictures and got married" said Lacy Buck.

"People danced and wore no clothes; I guess it was good." said Cabell Tice. Wearing 'no clothes' is a good point because the attire at Sadie Hawkins forced the school to change the dress code for Winter Ball.

"It started out weird 'cause nobody would dance, but then later everyone danced," said Shana Carr, "and the music wasn't very good. Sadies is suppose to be a country dance, so the music should be country, but the most of the music was rap." All-in-all, a memorable event.

...WINTER WEEK...

Winter Week 2006 was a blast from the past! There were dress up days that benefited the Doernbecher's Foundation by donating 10 cents for every person who dressed up. The Dress Up Days were, Jeans Day, White day, Wons Day, and Bundle Up day.

There was a Winter Assemebly where the Life Skills Students were acknowledged and crowned the Winter Week Court. "It was fresh and exciting", says Andrew VanVlack. "The Gingerbread Houses were cute!" said Mariah Rudolfi after attending the Winter Night Bash. All and all, this years Winter Week is one we won't soon forget.

Blizzard gives students a sense of a true Winter Wonderland

Breaking it down on the dance floor! This year's winter ball was one of the most blazin' yet! Sure it was hot, but the casanova's and fox's were rippin' it up! Dude!

The fuzz held down the place to make sure no dudes or dudettes wiggled out! The beats were some of the raddest yet.

King and queen, Thomas Christensen and Karlee Johnson were the hep-cats of the ball.

By the time the end of the dance came around most wanted to blow that taco stand and go back to their pads. All and all, this dance was dyn-o-mite!

Prom was very nice this year. There were some suprising subtle touches, including a large quantity of paper cups donated by the local McDonalds. The theme was "Walk the Red Carpet." This year at prom, it was the little things that counted: people dressing up, the [easily destroyed] decorations, the prime realestate, the abundance of under classman, and of course, the chaperones. All these things combined just put the dance "over-the-top". Prom King, Matt Brause, and Prom Queen, Kelly Roman, really strutted their stuff out there on the dance floor, and Jammin' 95.5 played this season's hottest tracks. Most people that attended agree that the 2007 prom was definitely one for the record books.

Working is the fall play of the 2006-2007 school year. Working is about different jobs that most people probably wouldn't want to have. Who wants to be a telephone operator, a house wife, a UPS man, or even a waitress or waiter who gets lousy tips? Certainly it's not the average people who think their better than most people. You have to have an open mind about these jobs and the cast of WORKING makes it a great play because they all have open minds about the job they work at.

We asked Cole Johnson who was an actor in the play, what was your most rewarding thing about being in the play? He answered, "Well, probably having the honor of working with a great cast and crew and coming out of it with some friends." That's a great thing about being part of something so successful, coming out with more than what you went in with to start.

Jenni Newton who was the Director/Supervisor of the play, also answered some of our questions. Let's get her input on this play. "I love it when we all start to see it 'CLICK' and come together. It's always exciting," said Jenni when we asked her, what was her favorite part about the play or rehearsal with the students. She also commented on the audience participation which she thought was "Good and Fun. I believe they enjoyed the show." Not only did the audience enjoy it but the actors and actresses enjoyed performing in it.

This play made an ordinary everyday job seem worth while. Not only did they talk about what they do on the job, but because of all the singing put into the play, it made it seem more exciting. The songs they sang were catchy and some people had them stuck in their heads afterward.

The cast and crew did a great job in this play. Congratulations to all of you and great job.

I love it when we all start to see it 'CLICK' and come together. It's always exciting.

Walking

Astoria High School was the first school to be willing and able to perform the play "Dead Man Walking." It's a play of a man named, Matthew Poncelet, played by Andre Evans, who is on death row for killing two teenage kids. Sister Helen Prejean, played by Katie Troedson, was counseling him the weeks before his date to die.

Throughout the preparation for this play, Jenni Newton had Aba Gale, Josh Marqui and Magdaleno Rose-Avila speak to some of our students about the death penalty. This play brought quite a bit of background information that the students could learn about to help them better understand the play.

Dead Man Walking by Tim Robbins, and original novel by Sister Helen Prejean.

Not everyone in leadership has a position. Key members such as Chelsea Carlson and Anthony Randall are the silent leaders of the group. Then of course there is Jenni Newton, leadership advisor.

Every school needs a leader, and our school is fairly well equipped. Over the years AHS has set up a form of student government that does a great job of representing our student body. The first category is ASB, a group of seven members holding different positions that run student council meetings. Included in these seven are the school co-presidents. This year our entire students body voted for Steven Wentworth and Wendi Agalzoff as co-presidents, and boy did we get the creme of the crop.

Besides ASB, our student government also includes the leadership class. Leadership includes class officers, elected by each grade, and various other positions such as Fisherman Fanatic and Care-Kid. Filled with colorful personalities, humor, and wit, our leadership class also includes various other members who hold no special rank, but only wish to improve our student life. The leadership class plans our dances, pep assemblies, and spring celebrations. After all, do you really have anything better to do than attend a block party or go to an after game dance?

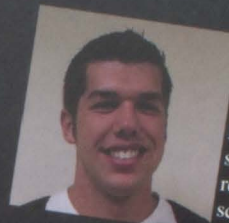

Our student council meetings, run by ASB during leadership class, really don't get enough credit. Once a month student council gets together and approves club charters, decides where student funding should go, and ponder important decisions. So next time you have an issue that you would like to see changed, inform someone in leadership, and watch the problem be resolved.

Not much is worth four hours of community service or a four-hour lesson on safety and camping. For the students who go on the annual raft trip, it is. Guided by principal Larry Lockett, teacher Cam McFarland, John Gaffney and P.E. teacher Gordon Thompson these students raft down the Deschutes River. The students learn everything from safety to the history of Oregon, and geological formations of the lower Deschutes. "I'd heard about the raft trips from lots of different people," said junior Hillary O'Bryan, "But I never got to go. I was supposed to go with leadership, but I couldn't so I went on the next trip. It was really fun." The raft trip emphasizes the improvement on inner-school relations. "There were a bunch of people I knew of, but never really met," noted O'Bryan. "That was one of my favorite things about the trip. You really get to know people you didn't know before." The trip costs $140 per person which includes insurance, transportation, equipment, food and Bureau of Land Management permits. Without the permits a person is not allowed on the river. The most severe type of rapid attempted is a class four rating called Oak Springs. It looks intimidating but can be very safe if you follow the safety tips from your guides. "I loved it when we went on a couple of the big rapids," exclaimed O'Bryan. "They really get your adrenaline running." The trip is two days long, with early wake-up calls and departure times. Once in Maupin the group heads to the Harpan Flats put-in site where they start rafting and take out at Pine Tree. "It's pretty fun," stated O'Bryan. "When I was there, the weather was rainy and cold but the rafting was really fun, and made up for all of it." Junior Dante Combs said "There were a lot of people scared to go. [They were] afraid of the water, rapids and other things like that, but once we got underway and they started doing it they had a lot of fun." Some students go with a class or club, others just find the idea intriguing. Combs was approached by McFarland to take pictures. "Well, he came up to me and said he needed someone to take pictures for him, and I'd had a little experience rafting and with photography so I agreed." McFarland has been a guide for raft trips for nine years now. "A few people on the trip were afraid. By the end, they told me that they wished they'd done it through all their high school years, or that they'll definitely be doing it next year. That's what kind of trip this is."

Thespian Club

"To be, or not to be: that is the question." as quoted in Hamlet, this club is only for the light at heart who have a creative side. President Curtis Long is a hard core Thespian who has acted in many school productions, taking lead roles and astounding audiences. The Thespian Club this year was peppered with talent, with many members appearing in school plays, leaving audiences captivated. The annual Ashland Trip was planned by the Thespian Club and was a smashing success. You can thank the Astoria High School's Thespian Club for the up and coming Broadway stars.

Key Club/ BL of T

"Key Club is an international student-led organization which provides its members with opportunities to provide service, build character and develop leadership." The students in the Key Club seek to build leadership skills through community and gain experience in working together to accomplish a common task. Key club provides students with quality experience in service related jobs. Students learn the importance of spiritual values and giving back to the community rather than materialistic values in life. They become a valued member of the community at an early age so that they can gain respect and start to improve the community.

The Business Leaders of Tomorrow is an organization that helps its members to achieve academic excellence in the classroom as well as develop the skills necessary to excel in the business world. Spanish/French Clubs

Spanish Club helps promote cultural diversity and understanding through activities, friendship, and travel opportunities. The spanish clubs activities include enjoying music, food, planning fund raisers, trips to restaurants, and sponsoring school events such as dances. The Spanish Club sponsors and promotes educational travel opportunities to Spanish speaking countries. Spanish club raises money through service projects, which they use to sponsor these student travels. Co-Presidents Ryan Fritsch and Chris Edwards ran the organized the club with flawless enthusiasm.

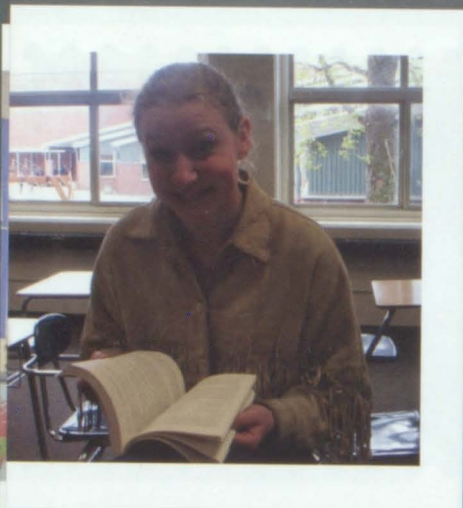

La Société Française (French Club) is a student-run and student-led organization at Astoria High School that plans a number of activities throughout the academic year for getting together to enjoy the French language and French culture outside of the usual french classroom. Some activities include going to Mme. Pierce's house to watch french movies and spend time with other french students.

Game of the Year

This year we took a quick poll to see what the best game of the year was and we got some intriguing results. Out of 32 voters we got 2 votes for Tony Hawk Underground and Gears of War, 3 votes for Super Mario and FIFA 07, 6 votes for Halo 2, 7 votes for WoW, and 11 other votes (games that had only 1 vote).

"The Amazing Race"... for a Dessert!

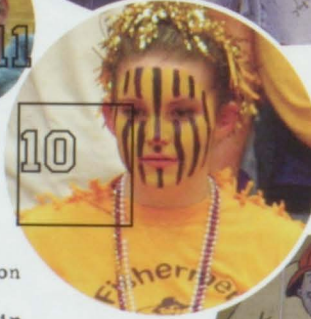

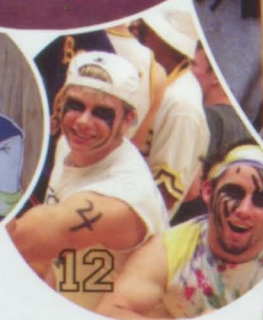

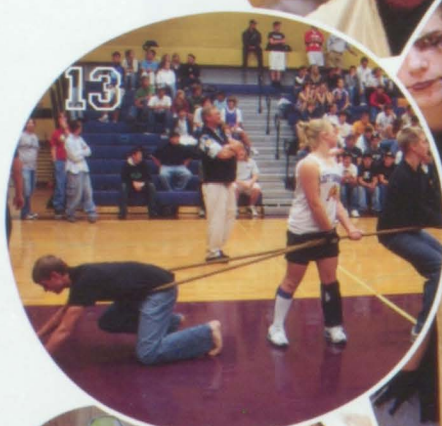

Sara Gullen, a junior at Astoria High School, recently received three fancy frosted cookies as the prize for correctly choosing the winning team on the most recent season of CBS' The Amazing Race. The cookies were hand-made by Instructor and Coach Dan Foss. Mr. Foss created the fun, three-month long competition as a fun incentive for students to watch the global travel show and learn about other countries and cultures.

Ms. Gullen was one of 11 students and staff members who chose the team of Tyler and James as the eventual winners. At the conclusion of the program, the names of all 11 individuals were put into a raffle drawing, and lucky Sara was the one recipient for making incredible cookies, as well as other desserts, so there was high interest in the show.

Action Sports

Action sports are an essential part of student life anywhere. Whether it be in far away places like New York, or in our little town of Astoria, there are extreme sports for everyone. Every sport takes time to learn and get into, but once you're hooked, you will love it. Skateboarding, Biking, Snowboarding, Car racing, or motocross, these are our action sports.

Exchange

Each Fall AHS hosts students from Waldorf, Germany for a day. Maren Holyoak and Jenae Poe planned the visit as part of their Senior Projects, which included opportunities for the Waldorf students and their AHS hosts to tour our area and learn about American culture. During Spring Break, AHS students had the opportunity to then visit their new German friends in Waldorf.

This year's Waldorf exchange trip started in Munich Germany for 4 days, then took a side trip to Venice Italy for 1 day. After coming back from Italy the students took a train back to Munich where they boarded another train and went to Waldorf. There, they met their host families. The host families then took the students to their school where everyone went to watch some students sing which was their welcome to Germany and their school. After being welcomed to the school they went to go eat lunch, and the hosts took the students on a short tour of their school. After the tour of the school the students went to their house. After that it was up to the students what they did. For the next 7 days the students went shopping, toured and hung out with their host and other students on the trip. The day before the students came home they went to an amusement park The Europa Park. On the last day the students were brought to the train station where the good byes were said, it was emotional for some but others were just having a good time like they had been the whole trip.

OLD FRIENDS, NEW FRIENDS

German Exchange Students Visit AHS

For years, students have traveled all the way from Ecuador, Italy, Japan and many other far away countries to be exchange students at Astoria High School. This year, Astoria High welcomed two German exchange students, Christoph Mundt and Wiebke Grillo.

While staying in Astoria, Christoph and Wiebke experienced many new things. For example, Wiebke tried Dr. Pepper for the first time while she was in Astoria. She stated, "We don't have it in Germany and I just really love how it tastes!" She also had many other "firsts" such as trick or treating, attending the homecoming dance, and going to Disneyland in California. Wiebke said her favorite experiences were going whitewater rafting and cross country trips. Christoph's favorite part of being in Astoria was playing soccer and spending time with friends. He said that one of the differences he really enjoyed between Astoria and Germany was the closeness of friendships that the soccer team had. He also said another difference between the two places was the school system.

Many people may make the assumption that exchange students may have a hard time fitting in, but that most certainly wasn't the case with Christoph and Wiebke. The two meshed in well with

"The thing I like most about Astoria are the friendly people." -- their caring and fun personalities. Sophomore Sarah Pope stated, "They really fit in well with the students here at AHS, and it was great to see them involved in our sports program too." They were both active in sports, as Christoph played for the varsity boys soccer team and Wiebke participated on the junior varsity cross-country team.

In addition to Christoph and Wiebke's stay here, Astoria High School's very own Maren Holyoak and Jenae Poe coordinated a group of exchange students from Waldorf, Germany to stay with some of our own students as host families for their senior project. These German exchange students stayed in Astoria for six days.

While they stayed in Astoria, they were also able to experience new things like downtown Astoria, the Maritime Museum, Astor Column, Fort Clatsop and many other Astoria activities.

Our Very Own Students Experience New Countries

Not only did Astoria receive two new students from outside the country, but two of our very own students took the opportunity to travel to different countries for a year, as well. Through the Rotary Youth Exchange, Clarissa Johnson and Alex Oletzke were selected to be exchange students in Ecuador and Thailand. (Clarissa in Ecuador and Alex in Thailand.)

Traveling to these far away countries is not only difficult on their families and friends, but it is challenging when they aren't fluent in that country's native language or familiar with the country's customs and traditions.

Although these may seem like setbacks, the overall experience to travel to a different country creates unforgettable memories and is a once in a lifetime experience.

Clarissa stated, "My advice to everyone is do rotary exchange. Even if you think it's not for you and you think you can't do it, give it a shot anyway. You'll regret it if you don't."

Both of these girls were faced with new opportunities and experiences. Alex encountered new things like having a strict dress code and even a restricted hairstyle. Alex said mullets are very popular with the older Thai girls, but assured she wasn't too interested in having one herself.

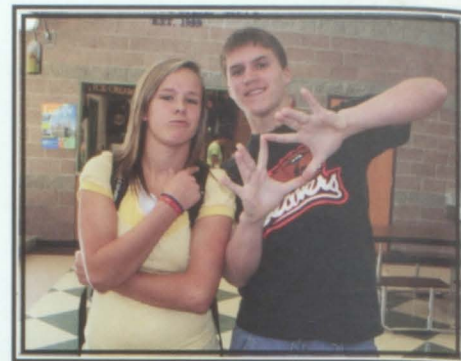

She also mentioned that things are very inexpensive in Thailand and she could go through a day full of activities for only twenty U.S. dollars. Alex stated, "It's really eye opening. Everyone is happy with what they have."

Clarissa also experienced new things--she even took up kite surfing and mountain biking. She said that her favorite part was traveling to different places like the beaches and mountains. She even mentioned that she's picked up a bit of a manabita accent! Clarissa stated, "All and all I'd have to say there are parts of both countries I love and dislike. But, I find myself with regional pride."

The Class of 2007 might just be the hardest class to say good bye to. From all the memories they have together, to all the memories they share with the rest of the school, we all had a friend in the Class of 2007. On Saturday June 9, 2007 they Class walked two by two or three by three to get there diplomas. They brought many laughs to the school year and we wish them them luck on the rest of their journey of life.
